My only requests would be: 1. Someone take the initiative of running a rumble site for actual anonymous text conversation. This means taking submissions from users on when they want to rumble. This site would be a fun site for all. It wouldn't be a 'rumble', but it would be a fun conversation where others talk to you. This form of discussion was demonstrated online on the Cd Pro website. 2. If there is a version 3 of the forum, I should be bumped to administrator. I will run it like it is now and just add moderators. My email is safe@safestep.org. I understand that it is hard to keep people on since there is no betting pool, but I'm ok with that. Lastly, I would like to thank everyone on the forums who had some idea for the site. These ideas were shot down, but even just an idea was better than nothing. I guess the ideas ranged from writing a betting pool to letting people make a ebook. Anyway, thanks
